Freddy was my brother, IS my brother! He was always so much more than that, and he knew that. I loved him, and I will always love him. He had a kind heart, a wonderful sense of humor and a great laugh to go with it. I will miss him everyday of my life. I know that we will see each other again though. Until that day I will wait patiently. Knowing that my little brother will welcome me home and show me everything that he's seeing right now, in heaven. I treasure every second that we had together. I love you, Fred. See you later.
